Foreign Broadcast Information Service

This is in reply to your letter of September 8, 1947.

STATINTL Prior to [redacted] departure from Washington, the six month's subscription for the New York Times by regular mail was placed. I will be interested to know when sufficient time has elapsed to make an evaluation whether or not this subscription is worthwhile.

I was very interested in your mention of Dodd Starbird. Dodd Starbird is a classmate of mine from West Point and a very intimate friend. He also is considered one of the outstanding younger officers in the War Department today. I had lost track of him since his departure from Washington. Please give him my very best regards when you see him again.

Sincerely yours,

[redacted]
Deputy Chief, FBI
